London – totally British, yet strikingly cosmopolitan: in fact, a kaleidoscope of cultures!

It's a city of villages with some of the greatest monuments and squares in the world – Westminster Abbey, St Paul's Cathedral, Trafalgar Square, Buckingham Palace, Big Ben ... the list goes on and on.

Whether dining, clubbing, theatre-going or shopping, gallery hopping or just looking, London is bursting with world class possibilities. Take a walk in Hyde Park, go boutique shopping on Regent Street or designer buying on Bond Street, then Covent Garden for lunch while watching the street entertainers, view the Old Master paintings in the National Gallery, hit the West End theatre, then Chinatown for a late-night bite.

Samuel Johnson said “when you are tired of London, you are tired of life.” And that was 200 years ago.....no wonder we love it!

Grosvenor House - a JW Marriott Hotel

★★★★★ Overlooking Hyde Park, completely refurbished in 2008, Grosvenor House was one of London's first " grand hotels" built in the 1920's. French brasserie Bord'Eaux's chef, Ollie Couillaud, describes its style as “La cuisine du terroir with a bit of panache”.

The Landmark★★★★★ A spectacularly different, imposing hotel north of Oxford Street. Larger than average bedrooms surround a palm tree filled atrium, where breakfast, lunch, afternoon tea and evening drinks are served. Bursting with antiques and fine art, facilities include a Health Spa with 45 foot swimming pool.

Millennium Gloucester

A modern, newly refurbished hotel close to Hyde Park, Kensington Gardens, major museums and Harrods, with sparkling modern conference and banqueting facilities, a fitness centre and 24hr business centre. Bedrooms are bright and spacious.

The Marylebone ★★★★★ Like a private club with fantastic facilities. Design details make the difference - fabulous! High-tech meeting facilities and an extensive health and leisure club were introduced in 2008. Restaurant 108 Marylebone Lane, serves contemporary cuisine, and is the ultimate neighbourhood bar-restaurant.

Edinburgh, one of Europe's most historic and attractive cities.

Gothic and Georgian architectural gems sit cheek by jowl; great city museums abound with vast collections of national heritage treasures.

There is no city sprawl; within a few minutes walk of the city centre are small village communities, centuries-old oases of quiet and calm.

Edinburgh appeals to both young and old, whether the splendid shops of Princes Street, its world-famous festival, the broodingly magnificent Castle dominating the City, or the Georgian architecture of the New Town.

Above all, Edinburgh is a welcoming city and is determined that its visitors have a good time. So once you have visited Edinburgh.....

"Haste ye Back."

Copthorne Tara ★★★★★

Ideally located in a quiet corner of Kensington, close to the shops and restaurants of Kensington High Street, Knightsbridge and Notting Hill. Near Kensington Gardens, Hyde Park, West End theatres and major museums. Rooms are spacious and elegantly furnished. Bugis Street Brasserie offers authentic Asian cuisine.

Sheraton Grand Hotel & Spa ★★★★★

Classic modern elegance in the heart of Edinburgh and featuring its own specially commissioned tartan. Many rooms have fine views of Edinburgh castle. The crowning glory is superb "ONE" Spa - the country's first and largest "Urban Spa" offering a wide variety of treatments, hydrotherapy pools and a gym.
